Before any disclosure, the party seeking disclosure will obtain written notice from the other party and afford such other party the opportunity to protect its interests. Judgment made on an arbitration award may be entered into by any court having jurisdiction.

13. Force Majeure. Excepting payment obligations, neither party will be liable for any delay or failure to perform its obligations under this Contract if such delay is due to circumstances beyond the reasonable control of the party, which results in that party's inability to timely perform hereunder. Such circumstances include without limitation acts of God, lightning, illegal strikes, earthquakes, floods, storms, fires, natural disasters, pandemics, acts of war, terrorism, riots, civil commotion, trade sanctions or other governmental restrictions on commerce, internet failure, postal or transportation delays, and changes in applicable law ("Force Majeure").

13.1. If a delay or failure to perform is caused by Force Majeure, the performance of that party's obligations will be suspended, and the affected party will be entitled to a reasonable extension of time for performing such obligations.

13.2. If a delay or failure to perform exceeds sixty (60) days due to Force Majeure, either party may terminate the Contract by providing written notice to the other party.

13.3. If the Contract is terminated due to Force Majeure, the parties will negotiate in good faith any payments or refunds that are due and equitable.

The reimbursement shall apply even if the corresponding Hardware items were not delivered to Client before termination and shall include any expenses associated thereof, such as, but not limited to man hours spent on manufacturing the Hardware items, Hardware parts, components and consumables.
- 14.3. Due to Force Majeure: Client or Hexagon, as the case may be, may terminate the Contract / Order anytime during its term if a delay or failure to perform its obligations exceeds sixty (60) days due to the occurrence of a Force Majeure event. In such case, the party affected by the Force Majeure event may terminate the Contract / Order by providing immediate written notice to the other party.

- 16.3. Severability. If any provision of the Contract is determined to be invalid or unenforceable, such determination will not render the entire Contract unenforceable or invalid, but rather the Contract will be read and construed, solely with respect to the affected jurisdiction, as if the invalid or unenforceable provision is not contained therein or to the extent possible to conform to the original intent of the parties, and the rights and obligations of the parties will be construed and enforced accordingly.
- 16.4. Waiver. No right of either party will be waived except by notice in writing signed by each party. Any failure by either party to enforce any clause of this Contract, or any forbearance, delay or indulgence granted by one of the parties will not be construed as a continuing waiver of that party's rights under the Contract.

Written notice of such assignment will be provided in a timely manner.
- 16.7. Insurance. Both parties will maintain in effect at all times the appropriate insurance coverage consistent with the type of supply or provisions set out in this Contract, as well as with industry standards from a reputable insurer, including as applicable, workers' compensation, travel, comprehensive general, professional and commercial liability coverage. Upon request, Client will provide Hexagon with proof of such insurance that names Hexagon as a loss payee.

- 16.9. Non-Solicitation. During the term of this Contract and for a period of one year thereafter, Client agrees that it will not, without Hexagon's prior written consent, directly or indirectly employ, solicit, engage, or retain the services of Hexagon personnel. - 16.13. Relationship of the Parties. Each Party shall at all times be an independent contractor of the other Party, and nothing in this Contract shall be construed as constituting a partnership, team, joint venture, representative, agency, or employer and employee relationship between the Parties or between any Party and any of the other Party's respective employees or subcontractors. Neither Party shall at any time hold itself or themselves out to be the employee of the other Party, nor shall they be entitled to any of the benefits provided by the other Party to its established or unestablished officers and staff.
- 16.14. Publicity. Hexagon may identify Client as a customer of Hexagon's in Hexagon's marketing materials and on its customer lists.

Any data delivered to Client after the 30-day deadline will be provided only on a for fee basis.

- 16.18. Compliance with Anti-Corruption Laws. Hexagon and Client agree that they will at all times comply with all Legal requirements relating to anti-bribery, anti-corruption and anti-money laundering (and must not do anything, or omit to do anything, to cause the other party to be in breach of any such Legal requirements). In additions to the foregoing, Hexagon: (a) warrants that neither it, nor any of its affiliates, subsidiaries, representatives, officers, agents, employees or contractors, has been convicted of any offence, and has not been the subject of any investigation or enforcement proceedings by any governmental, administrative or regulatory body regarding any offence or alleged offence, under any applicable laws, rules and regulation relating to anti-bribery, anti-corruption and anti-money laundering; and (b) shall give Client notice immediately upon becoming aware of any breach (or suspected breach) of this section.
- 16.19. Export Restrictions. The Products may be subject to United States (“U.S.”) regulations, orders or other restrictions as well as to the regulations, orders and restrictions applicable to the country where the relevant Hexagon entity is located regarding export of software, hardware, services, technical data or derivatives thereof.
